

UV Solutions Features Article Co-authored by Harrison Roakes

MARCH 27, 2020

An article written by Nate LaTourette, and co-authored by Sanborn Head's Harrison Roakes, and UV Solutions Editor-in-Chief James Malley, Jr. is featured in the International Ultraviolet Association's publication UV Solutions, 2020 Quarter 1 issue.

The authors discuss the need for additional research from widespread environmental detection of PFAS, in "PFAS: Does UV Technology Have a Role?" as seen on page 30. The complete article can be viewed by following the link to this online publication.
